Buddy & Veronica McGlothlin

Founders of Dove Song Ministries, Buddy and Veronica McGlothlin demonstrate a unique flow in the gifts of the Spirit in their travels across the US and abroad. As they share the life-changing Word and pray for those in attendance at their meetings, healing and deliverance begin to manifest. Visitors are healed of cancer and other documented diseases. Disturbed souls who participate in cutting and other destructive behaviors find freedom. New songs burst forth, drawing men and women deeper into the holy presence of God. But most importantly to Buddy and Veronica, everyone is without question stirred to renew hope and encouraged, "Don't ever give up!"

Buddy and Veronica are both ordained ministers with the IPHC. As they travel and hold special services, seminars, conferences and revivals, Veronica brings a timely word of hope and healing, exercises her gifts of preaching, singing and prophecy. Buddy exhorts the audience, sharing God's love, their love and the great peace that comes through knowing you are supported in prayer.

The heart's desire of this dynamic couple is to uplift the kingdom of God and throw a lifeline to the body of Christ. They do this in part by being "relatable" and transparent, and by working in both the secular arena and in ministry. Buddy serves as the Vice President of Sales of a heavy equipment company; Veronica works in advertising. Together, they lead the successful television ministry program, "One-On-One," which airs practical teaching and lessons learned from life experiences on CTN via Direct and Dish Networks every Thursday at 8:30 PM EST along with other cable networks around the nation.
